The Examination of Hydrocarbon Oils and of Saponifiable Fats and Waxes (Classic Reprint) (Paperback)

By D Holde

Forgotten Books, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from The Examination of Hydrocarbon Oils and of Saponifiable Fats and Waxes The fifth German edition was delayed in publication until the close of the Great War; this, however, made it possible to present in its pages many of the important developments in oil chemistry brought out by the exigencies of the times. Thus it has been possible to discuss the chemistry of the various materials which were used by the German nation during the stress of war as substitutes for linseed-oil varnish, for resins, for cutting oils, for soaps, and for lubricants in general. New sections on electrical tests and various electrical phenomena, on heat of fusion, on graphite lubrication, on surface tension, on cumarone resins, on artificial resins and on rosin size have been introduced. Other chapters, such as those on viscosity, on the theory of lubrication, on calorimetric determinations, on turpentine and its substitutes, on wool grease, on cholesterol, and on soaps, have been reconstructed. In spite of simplification of text, tables and general arrangement of material, the new edition contains nearly 200 more pages, 19 more figures and...

Reviews

Extensive information for book fans. It is written in basic words and never hard to understand. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

This publication is great. It is full of wisdom and knowledge. You will not really feel monotony at any time of the time (that's what catalogs are for relating to when you ask me).
