Excerpt: .be difficult to find, in the annals of the history of Mexico, conditions more deplorable than those which have existed there during these recent years of civil war. In attacks on American territory, Carranzista adherents, and even Carranzista soldiers, took part in the looting, burning and killing. Subsequent events have demonstrated that General Carranza would not have entered into any agreement providing for an effective plan for the capture and destruction of the Villa bands. If a denial is needed that this Government has had ulterior and improper motives, I am glad most emphatically to deny it. The Government of the United States, if it had had designs upon the territory of Mexico, would have had no difficulty in finding, during this period of revolution and disorder, many plausible arguments for intervention in Mexican affairs. The United States Government cannot and will not allow bands of lawless men to establish themselves upon its borders, with liberty to invade and plunder American territory with, impunity, and, when pursued, to seek safety across the Rio Grande, relying upon the plea of their Government that the integrity of the soil of the Mexican Republic must not be violated. The Government of the United States would surely be lacking in sincerity and friendship if it did not frankly impress upon the de facto Government that the execution of this threat (Carranza s appeal to arms) will lead to the gravest consequences. While this Government would deeply regret...
