If the citizens of these Territories come here with provisions establishing slavery, I am for admitting them, for then it will be their own work. See page 163. Senator Clay closed with a reiteration of his view that slavery did not exist in these Territories, but he did not argue the question. Senator Davis charged him, therefore, with firing a volley of blank cartridges in order that he might come up under cover of the smoke and make a charge upon us before we saw him. The Senator has set up his own cob-house to show how skilfully he could knock it down. It is no fabric of mine. Nevertheless we are willing to compromise on slave territory south of the Compromise line, and free territory north of it. This was in accord with the spirit if not the letter of...
