Language: English Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Blind Sisters of Saint Paul The hitherto practically unknown community of the Blind Nuns of St Paul deserves wider fame. It is sufficiently attractive to study the religious congregations of our time from a psychological and social point of view, since we can thus analyse and classify many needs of the present day, the spirit of self-sacrifice and those forms of physical or moral indigence differing so widely from those which a gift can relieve. But is not a still keener interest aroused when it is a question of nuns whose blindness places them under such special conditions? In this community all the sisters are not blind or threatened with blindness; there are many nuns with perfect eyesight; still the name of Blind Sisters of St Paul was given to the Congregation to emphasize the fact that it was founded for the blind and is their true home. Before penetrating into the convent, or describing the origin, the charitable aims or the future of the Congregation, it seems indispensable - though we must not overlook the problem of the blind girl s vocation, or the type of abnegation which leads a woman with eyesight to live in the midst of the blind - to speak, even at great length, of blindness in woman. It is necessary to analyse the impressions she receives from things and from people, and to discuss what her place in a home can be. Can she be useful or active? Can she love and be loved? Finally, what is to be her physical or mental share of life? About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic...
